

Record Highway Slaughter in '56

Safety Council Estimates 40,200 Killed

Number of Deaths Last Year Breaks Record Set in 1941

CHICAGO (UP) — The National Safety Council said today that 1956 highway slaughter in the United States was the greatest in any year of the nation's history.

The council's figures are as yet incomplete. But it estimated the number at 40,200. Its figures were based on actual reports from the states' traffic authorities for 11 months, and took into account the trend shown in December and the great number of year-end holiday deaths.

And the council added a grim warning that there is no indication the reckless traffic toll will slacken in the near future.

The council, which tabulates traffic deaths and accidents across the nation, said last year's toll broke the previous record of 39,969 deaths, set in 1941.

It said figures also show the ratio of traffic deaths per mile still is climbing, indicating more disastrous records will be set in the future.

Holiday Sets Record

The council's announcement came on the heels of the worst holiday traffic carnage in history. An all-time holiday record of 712 deaths was recorded in the nation during the Christmas weekend and this was followed by a New Year's weekend record of 412 fatalities. The total of 1,124 deaths also was a record for the combined weekends.

An indication of the increasing death rate on the highways was in the fact the 1955 traffic toll was 38,426, or about 1,700 under last year.

The fatality rate showed an increase in every month of 1956 except October, the council said. The October decline broke a string of 19 straight months in which the toll showed a steady increase.

November Deaths Jump

Council officials hoped the October slump would help prevent a new record for the year, but November traffic deaths killed 3,700 persons for a 4 per cent increase over November, 1955.

The council said all hopes of keeping 1956 off the record books as the bloodiest in history disappeared with the November toll.

A United Press survey showed at least 11 states set traffic death records in 1956. They were North Dakota, Wisconsin, Montana, Georgia, Florida, Missouri, Arizona, Louisiana, Iowa and California.

Son of Red Skelton Given Five Months To Year to Live

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Comedian Red Skelton's 9-year-old son is suffering from leukemia and has been given only five months to a year to live, the family confirmed today.

Milton Weiss, the comic's agent, said tests made a few days ago established that the boy, Richard Freeman, has leukemia. Richard is hospitalized at the UCLA Medical Center and has not been told of the serious nature of the disease.

Richard is the only son of Skelton and his wife, Georgia. The couple also has a 10-year-old daughter, Valentina Marie.

Physicians at UCLA Medical Center said Richard's life expectancy is five months to a year. They said the boy is in no pain and is "very cheerful."

Kimmel Praises Gov't Surplus Farm Products Program; Lists Meetings

Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel had words of praise today for the program of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, who is channeling surplus farm products into countries the world over to feed hungry people. "How much better it is for the food to be used for that purpose than to let it go to waste," the farm adviser said.

How much better for the prestige of this country to feed these people than for communistic countries to keep them on a starvation diet, he added.

A rise in price of soybeans of 4c on the bushel this week was unexpected by the farmers, who are now selling their soybeans and corn. The soybean price increase is attributed to additional uses for vegetable oil, since the Suez canal conflict has cut off supplies of mineral oils formerly available.

As the farmer takes stock of events, the outlook for 1957 indicates that the United States will continue to feed the hungry people of the world. The prestige

Daley, Top Democrats Fail to Make Decision on House Minority Leader

CHICAGO (UP)—Mayor Richard J. Daley huddled with other top Democrats Thursday to talk about a new Illinois House minority leader, but reported they failed to make any decision.

Daley, who is Cook County Democratic chairman, said House members from Cook County will decide whom they will support for the post when they caucus here Saturday.

Cook County Democrats will outnumber downstate Democrats 49-34 when the House opens its 1957 session Wednesday, and thus hold the whip hand when it comes to naming the minority leader.

Daley said, however, that there still was a possibility the post

Receive Apple From Famous Tree At Vancouver, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Morse of this city have received an apple from Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stations of Portland, Oregon, which has an unusual source.

The apple was picked Christmas Day in Vancouver, Wash., from a tree planted in 1836. The famous tree, which had a special guard around it during World War II for its protection, was visited by Mr. and Mrs. Morse in July at which time they also visited with Mrs. Morse's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stations in Portland, Oregon.

The Stations picked the apple during a Christmas sight-seeing trip to Washington and mailed it to Mr. and Mrs. Morse.

The apple is yellow and looks like a Golden Delicious. However, it is not known whether that type was known by that name when the tree was planted in 1836.

Mansfield Urges Permanent UN Mid-East Force

Favors Collective Action Instead of Eisenhower Doctrine

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield said today the job of protecting the Middle East as envisioned by the "Eisenhower Doctrine" should fall to a permanent United Nations police force and not just the United States alone.

The Montana Democrat said the United States should be prepared to furnish a Marine division and a Marine air wing to such a U. N. force.

"My feeling is that aid (to the Middle East) should be provided multilaterally," (that is, by a number of nations acting collectively), Mansfield told a reporter.

Mansfield New Whip

Mansfield was elected Thursday as the new Democratic whip of the Senate and is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He was one of several Democrats who questioned the President's program closely as a result of Wednesday night's long, closed-door discussion of the plan with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The "Eisenhower Doctrine" envisions the use of U. S. troops, if necessary, to protect the oil-rich Middle East from any Russian aggression. Coupled with this would be a $400 million program of economic aid to help stabilize Middle East nations.

The President will go before an extraordinary joint session of Congress at 11:30 p. m. CST Saturday to make a personal plea for approval of his plan.

The President's address will be televised and broadcast by all three major TV-radio networks starting at 11:30 a. m. CST.

Heads For Approval

The administration will follow this up with a proposed congressional resolution authorizing the President to intervene with military and dollar aid for any Middle East nation requesting U. S. help against Communist aggression or subversion.

Although the President's proposal appears headed for ultimate approval by Congress, some Democrats in both houses have said that they want thorough, public hearings to explore every angle of the situation before acting.

Adlai E. Stevenson, in a press statement Thursday, criticized the "Eisenhower Doctrine." The twice defeated Democratic presidential nominee said Mr. Eisenhower came forth with the idea "after constantly reassuring the people that our position in the world was favorable and, barely two months ago, that 'there will be no U. S. involvement in present hostilities'."

Pentagon Silent on Disclosure of Marine A-Arms by Commander Pale

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Pentagon remained silent today on whether it might discipline Marine commander Gen. Randolph McC. Pale for his reported disclosure about the Marines' atomic capabilities.

For the present the Defense Department and White House took a non-committal stand on the story in Scripps - Howard newspapers quoting Pale as saying Marines in the Mediterranean were armed with "live" atomic artillery shells.

There were suggestions Pale might have violated the atomic energy law. C. Herschel Schooley, director of Defense Department information, noted that "under the law we can't say anything about the location of atomic weapons."

Firm Headed by Wife of Defense Official Receives Army Contract

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Defense Department has disclosed that a firm headed by the wife of Assistant Defense Secretary Robert Tripp Ross received a $834,150 Army contract last November.

A Defense Department spokesman quoted Ross as saying that he has had nothing to do with the firm for several years. Ross was not immediately available for comment.

The department said Thursday night in reply to press inquiries that a check of Army procurement records showed the contract for 249,000 pairs of men's trousers was awarded to Wynn Enterprises, Inc., of New York and Knoxville, Ky.

Mrs. Claire Wynn Ross, wife of the assistant defense secretary, is president of the firm, the department said.

The department said it was unable to give an immediate legal opinion on whether the military procurement activities of a firm headed by Ross' wife violated the conflict-of-interest law governing the outside financial interests of government officials. One associate, however, expressed doubt that the law had been violated since Ross now has no connection with or financial interest in the firm.

Mrs. Ross said there were a number of other bids submitted for the contract, and all were closed. She said she felt her firm could save the government about $75,000 on the transaction.

"I might make a little on it, or lose a lot," she said.

Mrs. Ross said she was named treasurer of the firm when it was organized in 1944, and has been president since last October.

"My husband had nothing to do with the contract," she said.

An official Defense Department biography of Ross, a former Republican congressman from Queens County, N. Y., shows that he was formally vice president, sales director and public relations director of Wynn Enterprises.

The Defense Department spokes-

A few hours later presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty refused to confirm or deny the story. He said he had no comment beyond that "the President has given no authority for the use of atomic or any other weapons in the Middle East."

Pale—admittedly "embarrassed"—came out of Deputy Defense Secretary Reuben B. Robertson Jr.'s office to tell reporters: "I don't confirm, deny or discuss anything at all" about the story.

Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas declined to say whether the incident was closed or whether punitive action would be taken against Pale.

"Jim Hagerty's statement will have to stand on its own," he said. "I can't go any further."

Trail of Phone Threats Left By Abductors

Calls Made to Ex-Husband, Mother; FBI Notified

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Beautiful Marie (The Body) McDonald was kidnapped from her bed in night clothes early today by abductors who left a trail of telephoned threats saying "Don't call anyone if you want to see her alive again," police said.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was notified immediately. Police said after a morning-long investigation that "only a remote possibility" exists that the disappearance of the blonde actress from her palatial San Fernando Valley home was a hoax or publicity stunt or that she left home willingly.

Miss McDonald's ex-husband, wealthy shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, told police a young male voice, extremely nervous, told him over the telephone about 2:10 a. m.:

"I've got Marie. Don't call anyone if you want to see her alive again." He said the mysterious caller must have gotten his telephone number from Marie because he has an unlisted number.

A similar anonymous call was made to Miss McDonald's mother and she rushed to the home where servants already had found her bed empty, the three children sleeping peacefully in adjoining rooms.

The call to the mother said: "We have Marie. Don't call police. She won't be hurt."

The former Powers model and "Scandals" girl, who hasn't made a movie in six years, apparently was abducted shortly after midnight. She was wearing only her night robe and a pair of black flat slippers, according to police.

A kidnap note, partially pencil printed and partly composed of words clipped from newspapers, was found by police in the mailbox outside the fence surrounding the McDonald residence.

"Don't call police. She won't be hurt to get money. We will get in touch with you," it read.

Police Inspector Henry Kerr said Miss McDonald's boxer dog, Duke, was roaming the fenced-in yard when they arrived in response to a telephone call from Miss McDonald's mother, who telephoned them immediately.

Inflation Hurting Low-Pension Retirees

Editorial

The cost of living is at an all-time high, and gives evidence of increasing, despite the efforts of government and economists to hold the line through "tight money" and other programs.

Generally, employed persons have received increases in wages and salaries which enable them to meet the increases in everyday living costs, such as food, clothing, housing and medical care.

But a group that is not so fortunate includes those who are retired, due to age or disability, on fixed incomes that do not increase with the cost of living.

Many of these are retired Civil Service and other state and federal government employees whose retirement income schedules were fixed during their earlier days of employment, the base then having been projected on the low cost of living at that time.

These people now find their pensions inadequate, and what was anticipated as a happy period at the sunset of life is becoming one of depression.

Those still fortunate enough to be employed have upward adjustments to compensate them when they eventually retire, but it appears the only answer to the others is for Federal assistance in re-evaluating their income from pensions to meet present-day demands.

There is a surplus in the pension fund of more than six billion dollars, and those who have retired under the low pension payments are of the opinion they can receive an increase from this fund without disturbing the pension program.

At the last session of Congress, bills designed to accomplish this were introduced and were well on their way to passage, but adjournment halted legislation.

It is to be hoped that an earlier start will be given at the approaching session of Congress, and that the just measure will be enacted into law.

Ag Scholarships Announced by Federal Land Bank

Two $500 scholarships will be established by the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis, for senior high school boys entering the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, beginning in the school year 1957-58, according to an announcement by Walter H. Droste, president of the bank. Similar scholarships are being provided in Missouri and Arkansas, the other states served by the St. Louis bank.

In making the announcement, Droste pointed out that farming is the largest and most important business in the United States. He stated that, with mechanization and the application of science to agriculture, many basic changes have taken place in this important part of our economy, permitting greater efficiency in farm production to be achieved through the application of new skills and new methods.

The scholarship committee of the university will make the selections for the awards from the senior high school boys in vocational agriculture who apply. Detailed information is available through vocational agriculture teachers, county agents, and secretary-treasurers of national farm loan associations. The Federal Land Bank of St. Louis is wholly farmer-owned and farmer-controlled. The bank makes long-term farm mortgage loans through national farm loan associations serving every county in Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas.

Rockefeller Millions Better Conditions in Venezuela

By PETER EDSON

CARACAS, Venezuela—(NEA)—Nelson Rockefeller and his brothers have invested around 12 1/2 million dollars in Venezuela in the past 10 years in a series of unique experiments.

It has been a kind of private Point Four in cooperation with the Venezuelan government and five of the big oil-producing companies. The purpose has been to raise the living standards of the Venezuelan people, increase domestic food production, combat inflation, aid small business, promote free enterprise and private investment.

Nelson Rockefeller recently returned to the States after inspecting his many enterprises here, including three big farms.

He has taken some bad losses. Right at the start, for instance, he tried to modernize the Margarita Island fishing industry. Loans were made to fishermen to put motors in their boats so they could fish farther from shore. Many of the fishermen promptly turned to smuggling, which was more profitable.

The loss on this venture was over 1 1/2 million dollars. But Mr. Rockefeller has stuck with it, and a frozen fish fillet business is now pretty well established as a new food supply source.

THE ROCKEFELLER brothers got into this business development at the invitation of the oil companies. Inflation was sweeping the country and the whole Venezuelan economy was taking a beating.

In a crash program to increase local food supplies in a hurry, some big risks were taken to introduce new farming methods and wholesale food distribution systems. But Venezuela wasn't ready for mass marketing. For one thing, there weren't enough customers. The population 10 years ago was under five million.

There were some sad failures and total losses of around 5 1/2 million dollars. But today the Rockefeller assets in Venezuela are valued at about seven million dollars. And the surviving, successful enterprises will show a half-million dollar profit this year.

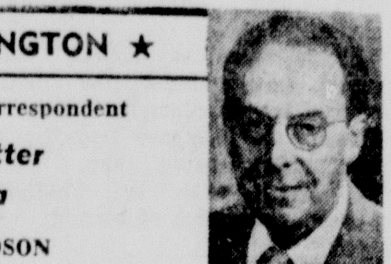

Among the more successful ventures is a string of eight supermarket buildings, each of whose 12 to 15 stores is leased to a private operator. In spite of some local business competition objection, "sobremercados" have caught on. They are changing Venezuelan buying habits, and they are being copied. Venezuela's first local-capital department store has just been opened in Caracas to compete with Sears.

ANOTHER VENTURE which paid off was the introduction of modern dairying methods, pasteurized milk and home deliveries.

Nelson Rockefeller personally bought out three of the farm enterprises for three million dollars. He is experimenting on production of basic foods to make Venezuela self-sufficient on things like rice, potatoes and livestock for a bigger and better meat supply.

In 1952 the Rockefellers formed IBEC — the International Basic Economy Corp. — to take over the oil company investment in these enterprises and write off their losses. Later the government's share was bought out to prevent it from sustaining losses.

The fundamental Rockefeller idea, however, is to start these enterprises, show they can be run profitably, then sell them to Venezuelan private investors. This has

Record Business By Stock Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's stock markets did a record 38 billion dollars worth of business last year, the Securities & Exchange Commission reported today. It also reported that it uncovered a record amount of fraud.

The SEC, which keeps tabs on stock issues to prevent the fleecing of gullible buyers, made the statements in its 22nd annual report to Congress for the fiscal year that ended last June 30.

During the year, the SEC said, $31,100,000,000 in new securities were registered for public sale. This was the largest amount in the commission's history and $2,000,000,000 more than in the preceding year.

The value of securities traded on stock exchanges during fiscal 1956 was 38 billion dollars, the report said, more than double the figure for fiscal 1953. Stockholders included 8 1/2 million Americans, about 2 million more than five years ago.

The SEC said "the tremendous economic activity of the country" led invariably to a record amount of "fraud, deceit and manipulation in the sale, purchase and trading of securities." Dishonest dealers and promoters, it said, found a ready market in the "gullibility of the public."

All Trucks Must Be Equipped with Contour Type Splash Guards

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — All trucks must now be equipped with contour type splash guards, Chief William H. Morris of the state Highway Police warned today.

The law, passed by the 69th General Assembly, required that all new trucks purchased after Sept. 1, 1955, be equipped with contour guards, and that all trucks, regardless of purchase date, be equipped with contour guards by Jan. 1, 1957, Morris said.

Enforcement of the law is underway and will continue to be strictly enforced throughout the state, Morris stressed. Until Dec. 10 there had been an injunction against enforcement of the act. An order staying the injunction temporarily lifted the ban on enforcement.

Then along came Jayne in a Bi-kin bathing suit, with driving ambition, zippy quotes, carefree days of near-nude photographs, a dyed French poodle, a strawberry pink Jaguar, an $18,000 installment plan, a Mr. Universe for a boy friend and a bath towel for a Broadway stage wardrobe.

It's the almost unbelievable stuff occasional Hollywood fame has been made of ever since Gloria Swanson napped on a white bear-skin, Clara Bow was the "It Girl," Jean Harlow perfumed her swimming pool, Mae West said "Peel me a grape" and Marilyn Monroe posed for a calendar with only the radio on.

"Jayne Mansfield will be as big a movie attraction as Jean Harlow or Marilyn Monroe," says her studio, 20th Century-Fox. The studio already has cast Jayne as a wayward doll in her second movie, "The Wayward Bus" — and no quips, please, about where's the "t."

"She's been studying acting and she knows how to handle lines," says Frank Tashlin, who directed "The Girl Can't Help It."

"She has the greatest shape of any gal I've ever dressed," says veteran designer Charles LeMaire, who blueprinted the "discreet" but form-fitting gowns she wears in the film. "We're not hiding too much of her, though. Just enough so people can hear the dialogue."

"Last week they were green, what will happen to them if we do not get an early date for hearing?"

SINGAPORE — When a Singapore court decided to postpone a case in which a Chinese was accused of stealing a bunch of bananas, the police prosecutor protested:

"Last week they were green, what will happen to them if we do not get an early date for hearing?"

The clerk took one glance at the bunch of bananas and decided the case was urgent. They were already turning yellow. He fixed the hearing the following day.

Wright to Bow Out As Treasurer; No Decision on Future

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Republican Warren E. Wright, about to bow out of his second non-consecutive term as state treasurer, said today he has made no decision regarding his political future.

Wright, who ran against Gov. William G. Stratton for the GOP nomination for governor last year, leaves office as treasurer Jan. 15, when State Treasurer-elect Elmer J. Hoffman will be sworn in.

Hoffman will be the last state treasurer to serve a two-year term because of a constitutional amendment. Wright, of Park Ridge, said he has not decided whether he will seek election to a four-year term as treasurer in 1958.

The treasurer said at least for the next year he plans to devote his time to his oil enterprises, and will open an office in Mount Carmel for that purpose. He owns a number of Illinois oil wells and some oil interests in Texas.

Policeman Retires With Unique Record

MILWAUKEE — Maurice Bernier, 58, has retired from the police force here after 31 years and an amazing service record of saving 32 lives and serving a million baloney sandwiches.

Bernier saved those 32 lives while he was working the early shift as jailer at the Safety Building. There were that many attempted suicides among prisoners, but they were saved by Bernier's alertness.

He served up the huge mound of a million baloney sandwiches while serving as bailiff in district court. The sandwiches are the traditional noon-time repast of prisoners waiting in the bullpen for a court appearance.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D. (Written for NEA Service)

Periodically we become concerned about the refugees who flee from injustice, hardship and death itself. We offer them haven in our land of freedom. Some of them come into our homes and receive our hospitality until they find niches in our American society.

These refugees need more than food and clothing. They will not find shelter and job sufficient to meet their human and spiritual needs. The strangers in our midst need friendship. They want love and freedom from fear.

Life abundant requires a sharing of our faith and our spiritual ideals. Since we have opened our doors to these strangers we must accept the full responsibility for creating mutual respect.

We cannot use these people for selfish ends, but rather we must prove that our unselfishness and cordiality are based on principles of a living religious spirit.

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise to "ton" your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Former Mental Patient Says He Plotted to Assassinate Truman

ALBEMARLE, N. C. (AP) — A skinny ex-convict and former mental patient, the brother of the first U. S. soldier killed in Korea, says he plotted to assassinate former President Harry S. Truman.

The story was told in his jail cell here by Leroy Shadrick, 32, Skelton, W. Va., who claims his "troubles began" when his brother Pvt. Kenneth Shadrick, was killed in Korea July 5, 1950.

Shadrick is being held here on an attempted robbery charge in connection with his unsuccessful attempt Dec. 10 to hold up a Home Building and Loan Assn. office.

He told reporter Fred Morton of the Stanley News and Press that he heard "a voice" directing him to assassinate Mr. Truman, and said he planned to do it on the seventh anniversary of his brother's death.

Shadrick, himself a former GI in Korea, said he had been treated in several mental institutions after his mind "blanked out" in Japan. He also served 18 months on a federal income tax evasion charge, and was released from the Lewisburg, Pa., Federal Reformatory only a few days before the holdup attempt here.

Shadrick told Morton he went to Independence, Mo., last March to "case" the Truman home, then bought a shotgun and ammunition.

Shadrick told the reporter he holds Mr. Truman "directly responsible" for his brother's death. He also said that he plotted to try to assassinate Gen. Douglas MacArthur "if Truman is dead when I get out of prison."

A-Commission to Ask Legislation by General Assembly

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Legislature will be asked to take cognizance of the atomic age by amending workmen's compensation laws to include injuries suffered from atomic radiation.

The Illinois Atomic Power Investigating Commission said it will recommend such legislation during the coming session of the General Assembly.

The commission said it also will recommend that the statute of limitations for such injuries be extended to five years, since the injury may not crop up for five years or more after radiation damage.

The commission was created by the last session of the Assembly at the suggestion of Gov. William G. Stratton.

The commission also will ask the Legislature to determine methods of encouraging more students to enter the physical sciences in Illinois.

State Sen. Glen O. Jones (R-Raleigh), commission chairman, said he will introduce a bill "to provide scholarships for students of physical sciences."

Federal School Building Bill Tops Demo List

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic leaders have made the No. 1 bill of the new Congress a three-billion-dollar federal program to help build new public schools.

The legislation—introduced by Rep. Augustine B. Kelley (D-Pa)—was assigned the top spot as "H. R. 1" among the mass of bills introduced by House members on the opening day of Congress Thursday.

At the same time, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) introduced a big school construction bill of his own containing the same anti-segregation provision which helped defeat school aid legislation last year.

Designation of Kelley's bill as H. R. 1 does not automatically give it priority over other measures. But House leaders generally reserve the first bill number for legislation they consider particularly important.

The Kelley-Powell bills were among an estimated 2,000 first-day bills introduced in the House. They called for nearly everything from an eight-billion-dollar tax cut to an investigation of why more people don't vote. Many, like the tax bill, were offered with no hope of passage.

Son Stops by Accident, Finds Mother Killed

KICKAPOO, Ill. (AP)—A 21-year-old Brimfield man stopped at the scene of a traffic accident to render aid and discovered his mother fatally injured in the wreckage.

Mrs. Florence M. Harding, 61, a school teacher at Peoria, was dead on arrival at a Peoria hospital Thursday following a car-truck crash on an icy road near here.

Mrs. Harding's son, Richard, stopped at the accident scene with a companion to help the injured and found his mother.

Also injured in the crash were Mrs. Carrie Cady, 65, and the driver of the car, Miss Karen Lou Mulvaney, 21, both of Brimfield and also school teachers. Mrs. Cady was reported in critical condition.

Actress Marie McDonald Kidnaped

after she got the anonymous call. Miss McDonald's room was undisturbed except for signs she had retired, although the telephone was off the hook.

Was Dating 'Viding

"It's frightening," said Karl. The couple's interlocutory divorce decree, under which Miss McDonald received a one-million-dollar total settlement, becomes final next July.

Under the federal law, revised after the Weinberger baby kidnapping in New York, the FBI assumes command of a kidnapping investigation 24 hours after the assumption of kidnapping is arrived at.

The old law provided a seven day waiting period after which it was assumed the victim had been carried across state lines.

Actor Michael Wilding, estranged husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor, arrived shortly after police opened their investigation at the one-story ranch house in Encino where the 32-year-old actress lived with her two adopted children and 4-month-old daughter.

Wilding was questioned by police.

Wilding has been seen with Miss McDonald since the breakup of his marriage with Miss Taylor.

Miss McDonald was awarded a divorce from Karl in July after testifying her marriage was "impossible."

Wed Nine Years Ago

Under terms of a property agreement described as a "million dollar settlement" she was provided with $3,500 monthly support for herself and two adopted children, Denise and Harrison, both 6, who reside with her.

The couple was wed nine years ago and separated twice. They were divorced in 1955 and Karl followed his wife to Paris where they reconciled before the divorce became final.

At the time of the divorce hassle, Karl surprised Hollywood when he filed his own suit to end the most troubled relationship in the film colony.

"I've tried to protect Marie in her escapades," he said at the time. "But I'm giving up." He claimed Marie was a victim of a "psychomatic illness" and that she had slashed her wrists in fits of despondency in Hollywood, Paris and New York.

"I've hushed up those incidents. I've stood by this woman for seven solid years of sickness. The doctors say there is nothing wrong with her physically. And she won't go to a psychoanalyst."

Marie had denied these charges and claimed "It's Harry who has the sleeping pills. I went to an analyst for 1 1/2 years. I got my diploma."

Fires, Carbon Monoxide Fumes Fatal To 36 Persons, Including 27 Children

By United Press
Fires and deadly fumes have killed more than 35 persons, most of them children, in an outbreak of residential tragedies across the nation.

A survey by United Press showed a total of 36 persons killed, 27 of them children. Fires claimed 28 lives, all but six of them youngsters.

Carbon monoxide fumes were blamed for the deaths of a couple and their child and for a father and four of his children.

The worst fire tragedies killed six persons each at Jeffersonville, Ga., and Temple, Pa.

Five members of one family were killed in a home fire at Marshall, Mo., three small children burned to death in a blaze near Okolona, Miss., a father and daughter died in a fire at Dubuque, Iowa, and two children were killed in a Birmingham, Ala., blaze.

At Troy, N. Y., Joseph Lashway, 42, and his three sons and a daughter died shortly after they were found unconscious in their homes late Thursday. Authorities said carbon monoxide apparently was responsible for the deaths.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown and their 8-year-old daughter died in their Columbus, Ohio, home when carbon monoxide fumes filled the house from an unvented gas heater. Wipes Out Family

The fire at Jeffersonville killed A. Lucius Ringwood, 40, his wife and their four children.

An overheated kerosene stove was blamed for the fire at Temple. Trapped and killed by the flames in their one-story frame home were Mrs. Esther Rothermel, 48; her grandchildren, Jimmy Brobst, 1, and his 3-year-old sister Peggy; her nieces, Donna Rothermel, 2, and Carol Ann Fromm, 4; and a nephew, 4-year-old Eddie Rothermel, Donna's brother.

Orvell Swisher, 37, his wife and their three children died in the fire at their home near Marshall.

Illinois Hit By Rash of Fires

By United Press
A rash of fires in Illinois Thursday and today caused extensive damage to two lumber firms and a grain elevator and destroyed a restaurant, photo shop and law office.

At Kankakee, fire caused an estimated $200,000 damage to the H. H. Troup Lumber Co. and to a nearby theater. The blaze also disrupted power in the city's business district for a time.

Firemen from Mokena, Limestone, Manteno, Bourbonnais, Bradley, Aroma Park and West Kankakee helped fight the blaze. The flames caused minor damage to two nearby buildings before they were brought under control.

Lumber Shed Destroyed

A spectacular two-alarm fire at the Lord and Bushnell Lumber Co. in Chicago destroyed a lumber shed before it was brought under control this morning.

Fifteen pieces of fire equipment were rushed to the scene. No injuries were reported.

A restaurant, photo shop and law office were destroyed in downtown Freeport Thursday by a blaze of undetermined origin. Damage to the Ranch Restaurant and the second floor offices was estimated at $100,000.

Rages Four Hours

The fire raged out of control for nearly four hours, and ice which formed in the street from fire hoses hampered the efforts of fire fighters.

One policeman suffered a leg injury when he fell on the ice and several firemen were overcome by smoke.

A fire at a Thomasville grain elevator Thursday night caused an estimated $80,000 damage. Crewmen on a passing Illinois Central freight train spotted the flames and notified authorities. Companies from Thomasville and Girard answered the call.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

Kimmel Praises Benson Farm Program

that makes the type of meat that is most popular in demand.

Farmers are also interested just now in the new spreader service that has been developed by Milligan & Ellis, who are in the lime and phosphate business at the Milligan Coal Yard. This is a new enterprise developed by Jess Ellis, who makes trips to Alabama and Mississippi buying and selling corn and transports lime and phosphate from that area.

Some Plowing Underway

The moisture content of the soil has been little enough that some plowing for spring crops is now going on in the county Mr. Kimmel said. Rainfall is not more than an inch short of the normal amount, according to the weather bureau. Winter wheat, oats and barley were suffering from the sudden drop in temperatures to ten degrees above this week, but the root-stand is good and the outlook for the crop excellent, Mr. Kimmel said.

Repair of machinery, and work on income tax and social security problems are the main projects of most of the farmers of the area.

Asked if he could see much change in agriculture in the time he has been here, which is about six years, Mr. Kimmel said that there has been a steady increase in efficient use of grasses and the improvement in livestock has been outstanding. He stated that 50 per cent of the cattle raised on Saline county farms today, could with grooming and fattening, be show material, whereas not one out of a hundred would qualify for show purposes when he first came into the county.

Better Procedures

He attributed this improvement to the farmer's use of scientific procedure, made available through the extension service of the University of Illinois and the increasing scope of Southern Illinois University's agriculture department.

Traffic in the Farm Bureau office, he said, is much heavier during the cropping season when Farm Bureau members, and non members come, wanting help or information on planting, soil improvement, marketing and the hundreds of problems that arise on the farm.

Mrs. Ezra Osborn, Broughton Resident, Dies

Mrs. Ella Osborn, 74, resident of Broughton and widow of Dr. Ezra Osborn who was at one time active as a physician in that area, died at 9 a. m. Thursday in the Union County hospital at Anna.

Best Move for College Cagers: Play 'Em All On Your Own Court

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—(NEA)—When you play a college basketball game on the other fellow's court, you're in the same spot as a guy trying to find his overcoat so he can leave a party in a strange house.

One closet looks the same as the next.
Frosty Cox, Montana coach, says the home team has a 15-point edge. Howard Cann, New York University's veteran, disagrees. He says it is only 10. Frank McGuire used to describe his league as a home-and-home conference.

"You win at home, then lose on the other team's court," the North Carolina coach said.
This has been going on for years, they say. Yet in recent years, schools have been erecting field houses which accommodate up to 17,000. Because of them, the need for travel to other sectors has been cut down. The college end of the sport has become a more regional game than ever before. Schools are staying in their own conference.

So does this home court business still hold true?
Coaches say you don't have to travel more than a couple of miles to get the home court business.
"It's the things you don't see during a game that hurt you on the road," Howard Cann says.
"Everybody knows the crowd hurts you, but they don't notice the other factors. Take the basket.

Parker Pro Coach of Year

NEW YORK — Buddy Parker, whose Detroit Lions finished second last season after winding up last in 1955, today was named National Football League "Coach of the Year" in the annual United Press poll.

Parker, whose Lions lost the Western Division title to the Chicago Bears by a half-game, received nine votes in balloting by 25 sports writers who covered the 1956 campaign in the various league cities.
Jim Lee Howell, who guided the New York Giants to their first Eastern Division title in 10 years and their first league championship in 18, was runnerup with six votes.

Joe Kuharich, who kept the Washington Redskins in the Eastern race until the final week of the season, was third in the voting with five ballots.
Ray Richards of the Chicago Cardinals drew four votes and the other went to Paddy Driscoll, who guided the Chicago Bears to the Western Division crown in his first season as the team's head coach.

The Lions compiled a 9-3 record last season after finishing last in 1955 with a 3-9 mark.

Wilt Chamberlain Increases Lead In College Scoring

NEW YORK — Sophomore sensation Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of Kansas continued to defy a general downward trend in college basketball scoring today as he increased his lead in the national scoring race.

The Jayhawk seven-footer tallied 36 points against Oklahoma and 45 against Colorado during the past week to boost his average to 34.0 points per game for the season. In second place, at 30.3 points per game, was senior Grady Wallace of South Carolina. These were the only two players among the nation's major-league athletes who were scoring at better than 30 per game.

This falling off also was reflected again in team statistics, which showed Ohio University on top in scoring with 91.0 points per game and Morehead, the defending scoring champion, was the only other team over 88 points with a 90.4 mark.

Archie Dees is Indiana's Ace

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — As Archie Dees goes so goes Indiana in the 1957 Big Ten basketball title race, it appeared today.

The 6-foot 8-inch junior center from Mount Carmel, Ill., easily is the Hoosiers' No. 1 ace on the hardwood floor—and the statistics show why.

In the seven pre-conference "warmup" games, Dees scored 170 points for a healthy 24.3 average. He made good on 55 of 133 attempts for a 41.4 percentage.

Forward Jerry Thompson, IU's second highest scorer, has averaged barely 11 points per game. None of the other starters averaged 10 points or more.

Robinson Files Official Protest

NEW YORK — Sugar Ray Robinson has filed an official protest today against the officiating at Wednesday night's fight with Gene Fullmer.

Future plans are expected to include "a $250,000 return title bout" with young Fullmer, who won Ray's middleweight crown on a decision before a sellout 18,134 at Madison Square Garden.

Promoter Jim Norris, who hopes to stage the second Gene-Ray fight at New York or Chicago, said it will draw "between $250,000 and $275,000."

In a long telegram of protest to the N. Y. State Athletic Commission, Ernie Braca—Robinson's co-manager—today accused Referee Ruby Goldstein of letting Fullmer use foul tactics. Braca said those tactics including butting, heeling with the glove laces, wrestling, hitting low and rabbit-punching to the back of the neck.

The commission will be unable to consider the protest until its next meeting, next Friday.

In addition to losing his 160-pound crown, Robinson lost a $42,000 chunk of his $138,190 purse to the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue for back income taxes Thursday. In addition, Nicholas G. Troilo, an irate Philadelphia promoter, has filed a $75,000 suit against him for alleged breach of contract to fight there.

Crack Pro Field Begins Play in Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — A crack field of professionals, all armed with a new mental attitude toward the game of golf since the institution of set fines for unbecoming conduct, teed off today in the 31st annual Los Angeles Open.

With a top prize of $7,000 for first place and a chance to gain an early lead in the 1957 money standings, nearly every professional of note in the country was on hand for the first round at the long, rolling Rancho Course.

Many of them are teeing off with certain reservations. There now is a specific schedule of fines for such things as breaking a club in anger, swearing, failing to show up to compete, etc. So most of them will be on their very best behavior—at least for a day or two.

While Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the National Open champion, has been installed as the heavy favorite at 3-1 to win the event, some of the eyes are going to be on a young fellow named Gay Brewer, ex-GI from Cincinnati, Ohio, who played the course Thursday in 32-32-64, seven under par to win the professional share of $400 in the pro-am tournament.

All games will be played in the Junior high school gymnasium and according to announced plans there will be four games each night, with games played on Monday and Thursday evenings starting at 6 o'clock and continuing until 10, with a schedule of a game an hour.

The Ministerial Alliance will defray part of the expense, but to meet the total cost of the operation, each church will pay an entry fee, which has been based on the number of teams in the three leagues.

Each team in the Junior league will pay $2.25, the Intermediate league entry fee is $5.25 and the Senior league fee is $3.75.

The first week's schedule will be announced within the next few days with the opening games to be played Monday, Jan. 14.

Pacific Coast Tightens Rules For Athletes

SAN FRANCISCO — The Pacific Coast Conference, apparently ignoring its recent poor Rose Bowl record, voted Thursday to increase the scholastic requirements for athletes.

The conference fathers, composed of presidents, faculty representatives and athletic directors of the nine member schools, voted to require a "C" grade average for athletes and to increase the number of units they must carry in the off-season.

Additionally the representatives at the winter meeting voted unanimously to uphold penalties already levied against four member schools for permitting excessive financial aid to athletes.

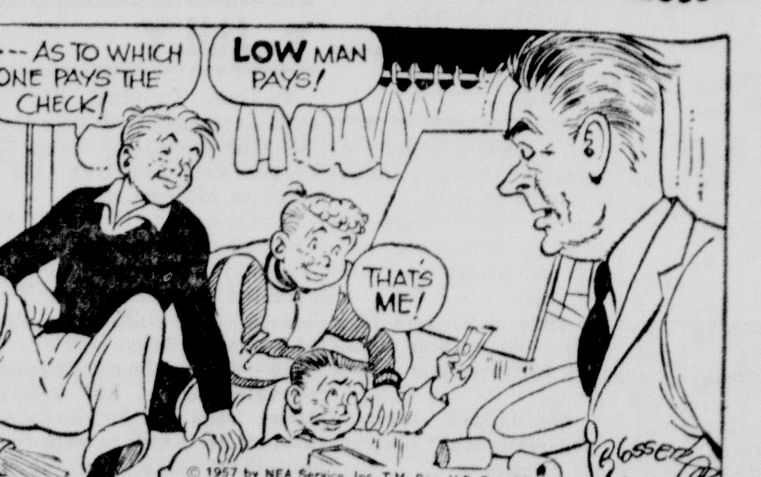

However, at the first session of the two-day winter meeting the fathers considered only four points of a new 10-point code proposed by the presidents' council last month and made no announcements on changes in the regulations to permit additional financial aid to athletes.

The proposed code offered increased money aid for athletes but proposed more stringent punishment for offenders.

Lakers Blow Lead, Bow to Pistons, 104-102

By United Press
A last-minute basket by George Yardley of the Fort Wayne Pistons proved the stumbling block for the Minneapolis Lakers' efforts to escape the Western Division cellar in the National Basketball Assn.

The Lakers, who could have vacated the basement with a victory at Fort Wayne Thursday night, led by as much as 19 points during the second quarter but blew that margin by the end of the third quarter. With 25 seconds remaining, the blond, balding Yardley scored from underneath the basket to give Fort Wayne a 104-102 victory.

Yardley had 33 points to lead the Pistons and Bob Houbregs added 22, while Clyde Lovellette tallied 24 for the Lakers.

In other games Thursday night, the New York Knickerbockers successfully defended third place in the East against the Syracuse Nationals, 126-111, and the Philadelphia Warriors rallied to nip St. Louis, 82-81, in a twin bill at Madison Square Garden.

THE STORY: Cass Ward is apprehensive of her happiness after she comes to Blue Jay Cove after her honeymoon with Alex. Her husband is a resident physician at the hospital operated by the Knapps. Cass wants to leave but Alex says the Knapps have been good to him and he feels that he has a debt to pay.

There were several guests seated in the parlor, and Cass was introduced to them.

Cass went over to the huge stone fireplace to look at an easel photograph of a young girl upon the mantel. She was very pretty, blonde—and something about her eyes reminded Cass of Alex. "Is this Marcy?" she asked her husband.

He came to look at it. "Yes, it is. And quite a good likeness."

Before she could ask any questions about Marcy, the supper gong sounded, and everyone moved toward the dining room. Mrs. Ward joined them, and after a bit Cass mentioned the picture.

"I've been wondering," said Alex, "why you sent her to Mont Albans, Mother? It must cost a lot, and I don't believe Marcy will learn anything of particular value at that kind of finishing school."

"Mont Albans," said Mrs. Ward, with such vigor that her chin trembled, and with color heightened, "will teach Marcy exactly what I want her to know. I've not had the time to train her to the little social niceties that are so important to a young woman when she marries a successful man."

"Is there some special man for whom you are grooming Marcy?"

"There is. You've known Adrian DeGreefe all your life."

Alex snorted. "Why, the old goat! How did such an engagement come about?"

"There is no engagement."

"Just wishful thinking on your part."

"It would be a most suitable arrangement for all concerned."

"Oh, it would not. Granted that Mont Albans will teach Marcy how to point her toe and quirk her little finger—but DeGreefe!" He turned toward Cass. "Towns like the Cove have certain inevitable features. The post office, the main bank, the town drunkard, the son who left town and made good in the world, a daughter who left and didn't. And in every town like this there is one family. Rich, usually. And queer, in a general sense."

"In the Cove, Adrian DeGreefe is our RICH MAN," Alex spoke the words in capital letters. "He's 20 years older than I am, which makes it 30 between him and Marcy. He inherited his money, and he has nurtured it profitably. I think the original fortune was in lead mines. Adrian grows flowers—orchids, and what-nots. He has a green house, and he's built a high brick wall around their place to keep the 'common folk' out of his garden. We have to be content with seeing the roses through the wrought iron gates, and feasting our eyes on the roofs and chimneys of the big house where he lives with his old, and blind, mother. Apparently he is a devoted son."

Lots of mothers in Blue Jay Cove, said Sue that afternoon.

The next day Sue Knapp was a busy doctor. She made her way along the hospital corridors, doing a dozen things automatically, and yet giving them the full attention of her mind and judgment.

When she reached the first floor, she heard her mother-in-law's voice coming from Miss Muir's office. Miss Muir was the hospital administrator. The young woman's job put her in the position of being blamed for all the mistakes that resulted from Francy Knapp's meddling in hospital affairs.

Softly, Sue opened the door and stood watching, listening. Francy, in her wheel chair, was being gay, and exceedingly unpleasant. Miss Muir, trim in a blue linen suit, sat behind her desk.

Miss Muir spoke. "But the trouble is, Mrs. Knapp, what you've done amounts to fee splitting. We can't keep our American Medical Association rating."

"Why, Sue," said her mother-in-law, "how long have you been standing there, eavesdropping?"

"Not long enough," Sue answered hardily. "What's she done, Mildred?"

"I'll tell you what I've done," said Mrs. Knapp quickly. "It concerns this Dr. Pagano—"

"He's been kind enough to come in and help out..."

"Just what sort of agreement did you make about paying him?" demanded Francy.

"What I expect Mildred has told you. Dr. Pagano was to present his own bill for his services to our patients."

"Didn't you have some sort of agreement on paper?"

"We had nothing except our confidence in him as a capable and ethical doctor. He required no guarantee from us."

Mrs. Knapp snorted, delicately. "You know that's not what I meant."

"I know it isn't. Now, tell me, what did you do?"

"What any good business woman would do. I considered Dr. Pagano's charges exorbitant, and I paid him what I felt was a fair part of the bill he presented to us at the first of the month. He doesn't consider, of course, that without us he wouldn't have had that work."

"Mildred's right, Francy, your way is fee-splitting."
